hotels were in Yorkville Court this morning to identify a man who says he is Howard Leon Jones, thirty-two years old, who pretended to be employed by a steel company, as a man who has in the past few weeks passed several worthless checks in paying hotel bills. He was held in $2.000 ball until next Saturday on the charge of giving a worthless check for $100 at the Vanderbilt Hotel and getting $66 in change.

Jones was arrested last night at the Hotel Gotham by Detectives Dennison and Martin after he had been traced there through the Hotel Mon's Association. A representative of the Hotel Vanderbilt said he had stopped there a week ago with two women who, he said, were his wife and mether-inlaw, and had left after cashing a wirthless check. A representative of the Eitz-Cariton said the man had left there leaving an unpaid bill for $600.
